FINISH FIGHT BETWEEN JOCKEY CLUB AND EMPIRE CITY?

Belmont Talks With Trainers and Book makers, but Says There Will Be No Boycott"-Rumor That There Will Be a Conflicting Meeting at the Beach.

Neither the stewards of the Jockey Club nor the Empire City track owners had anyhing to say for publication yesterday, but the air was filled with all sorts of rumors. It was understood that the negotiations which have been going on quietly for some time came to a sudden halt yesterday because the Jockey Club stewards' meeting lacked a quorum. August Belmont, James R. Keene and Andrew Miller, stewards, attended the races at Brighton Beach and before the day was over there was a persistent rumor that the Jockey Club intended to fight the Empire track to a finish. Mr. Belmont was asked by several trainers what action they should take regarding the Yonkers meeting and it was said that he told them that while no attempt would be made to keep them from racing at the Butler track he hoped that the trainers who had been through several of the Jockey Club's fights would remain loyal.

It was denied that Mr. Belmont had informed the trainers that if they raced at Yonkers they would lose their licenses, and it was also denied that the members of the bookmaking fraternity in the betting ring had been warned to keep away from the Butler track. But that it looked like a bitter fight, with plenty of trouble in sight. Mr. Belmont went down to the betting ring after the third race with several men and asked for John G. Cavanagh, who showed the party about the enclosure Later Mr. Belmont was with Cavanagh and Robert Pinkerton behind closed doors, but the subject discussed at much length could

When asked about the situation a man closely identified with the Yonkers track said that he still hoped for an amicable agreement and that an announcement of the true status of the case would probably be made to-day. He declared that Mr. Butler was doing his best to convince the Jockey Club that the Yonkers management would comply with all the rules and regulations of that body, and that every precaution would be taken to keep the sport clean. But this man could not say when the Empire track would make public the programme of events and the list of officials.

An hour after the races Mr. Belmont, Robert

Pinkerton, Joseph Auerbach, attorney for the Jockey Club: John G. Cavanagh and Bookmaker Sol Lichtenstein held a long confab in the betting ring. Mr. Belmont admitted that he had talked to several trainers during the afternoon, and that he had told them he hoped they would remain loyal to the Jockey Club He said that there was no intention on the part of the Jockey Club to boycott the Yonkers track, and that both the Racing Commission and the Jockey Club intended to live up to the requirements of the Supreme Court order which secured a license for the Butler track. Mr. Belmont also said that if the public really wanted a metropolitan meeting in August there was no better place, in his estimation, to hold it than the Brighton track, which is particularly well adapted for summer racing. This gave rise to a rumor last night that the fight against Empire City would be narrowed down to a conlict with the Beach track, inasmuch as Brighton, under the law, can race eighteen days more this year. If it should be decided to run a meeting at Brighton the usual fall ession of six days would be abolished, those dates being handed over to one of the other While there may be nothing in this report, it was conceded last night that in a conflict with Brighton Empire City would not fare very well. Brighton would get all of the Eastern horsemen who never go to Saratoga, while the meeting at the Spa would not be materially affected. Altogether it looked yesterday as if there were breakers shead.

District Attorney William Travers Jerome caused a stir in the clubhouse when he made his appearance there before the first race, accompanied by Larry Mulligan and Frank Mr. Jerome said that he had come down from the city to have an outing and that it was his first visit to a racetrack in twenty-five years. He saw a couple of races from the clubhouse veranda and then visited the paddock. After that President C. J. Fitzgerald invited him to occupy a vantage point in the stewards' stand, where with August Belmont and others he saw He Knows win the Sunshine Stakes. Mr. Jerome did not make a wager of any kind, neither did he pay a visit to the betting ring. He said as he left for town that he had enjoyed the Afternoon immensely and might pay another came to hand was the announcement by Trainer James Rowe to the effect that James R. Keene's Peter Pan had struck himself doing a workout and would not be able to stand training again for at least six weeks lowe said that rather than take chances of a permanent breakdown the great Com-mando colt had been thrown out of training. That makes it impossible for him to start in the Brighton Derby on Saturday, when it was expected that he would measure strides with the crack Charles Edward for the threeyear-old championship. Charles Edward will start, however, and so will Frank Gill and other

The bookmakers won another large sum through the defeat of five favorites. When Gold Lady was left at the post in the first race it was apparent that the starter and Jack Martin were not to blame. But thousands of dollars were burned up just the same, while Cressina and Sister Frances were also sources of profit for the ring. Zie nap and Coy Maid, who ran first and second respectively, were both neglected, as they went up in the prices. Lady Anne was well backed three ways, but she evidently did not care for the route.

Buckman, winner of the jumps, was a lukewarm favorite, as he went back from 2 to 1 to 12 to 5. The smart players backed Amanda H. from 7 to 2 to 13 to 5, while Dr. Keith was lowered from 5 to 1 and Blue Pigeon was strongly supported to show, also Esser.

The ring won a fortune on the third race.
All kinds of money was lost on Flavigny and Lancastrian, while Brancas, from the Gerst stable, was backed from 20 to 8. Red Friar and Sonoma Belle were also in much demand. There was a mild cleanup with Racine II., as he was played across the boards and was backed from 12 to 10

The players went to Live Wire in the Sunshine Stakes in a body. From 9 to 5 the big Handsel colt was played down to 13 to 10, which caused He Knows and Half Sovereign to recede in the prices, though both were liberally backed straight and place. Previous winners of the Sunshine Stakes were Pasadena, Esoteric and Gallant Dan.

If Engene Wayland's El Cazador had won the fifth race Robert McKeever would have won a bunch. Jack McGinnis played this colt across the boards with $25 straight, $25 a place and $50 third at 50, 20 and 10. McGinnis bid up Wardine, the winner, who spoiled the trick, from $1,000 to $1,500, the owner retaining the colt with the usual $5 raise. The books reaped a genuine harvest on the defeat of Esculcheon, Beleast and Flaxman in this event, all three receiving big backing.

When Beardall won the last race there was a successful coup, as the colt was backed from 12 to 8. Melzar and Franklin were also taken three ways. But the ring quit a solid winner because of the failure of Glaucus, Proclivity and Slumberless to make good. There was a mighty plunge on Glaucus. He opened at 7 to 1, but the money came in such quantity that he was beaten down to 3 to 1. McGinnis bet $2,500 on Glaucus, who was ridden by Notter, his jockey. Proclivity opened favorite at 3, but went back half a point, getting & steady play all over the ring from the public. Slumberless was also backed three ways. When Glancus pulled up Notter dismounted with a bruised leg.

Lancastrian will probably remain away from the races for some time, as he pulled up ame after the third event. Garner, who is in fine form just now, handled two winners, He Knows and Beardall.

GOLF. Tie in the Pour Ball Match at Van Cortland

Professionals and amateurs were together as four ball pairs in the New York Golf Club tournament yesterday at Van Cortlandt Park There were so many starters that the last pairs had to finish in darkness and to put by lantern light on the home green. GOLD LADY, FAVORITE, IS LEFT ASTE'S FILLY WHEELS AS THE BARRIER GOES UP.

Four Other First Choices Suffer Defeat-He Knows Takes Sunshine Stakes-War-dine Comes Home at 40 to 1-Other Long Shots Enrich the Bookmakers.

The slaughter of the betting public continued at Brighton Beach yesterday, when five heavily played favorites were badly beaten. The most distressing incident from the standpoint of the talent was the failure of A. L. Aste's Gold Lady to leave the barrier in the first race, a handicap for mares and fillies, at a mile and a sixteenth. Gold Lady was a 3 to 2 favorite, and was ridden by Jack Martin. She caused a delay of ten minutes at the post by her unruly conduct, and then when Starter Dade released the gate she quickly wheeled and was left flat footed, Martin pulling her up when he reached the lower turn nearly a furlong behind the field. E. Dugan put Zienap, 8 to 1, under a drive to win this race from Coy Maid, 15 to 1, by a neck, while Cressina, 5 to 1, was three parts of a length back, beating Sister Frances, 16 to 5, by the same margin. The time was 1:46 3-5.

It took all of Ray's strength and skill to win the steeplechase over the short course with T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s, Buckman, 12 to 5, the only successful favorite of the day. Buckman made all the pace, but Ray had to drive him vigorously to win by three parts of a length from J. W. Colt's Blue Pigeon, 7 to 1. Essex, 6 to 1, was a poor third. Amanda H., backed down to 13 to 5, was a bitter disappointment.

Beckman put up a clever ride on Racine II. the winner of the third race, at a mile and a half. Racine II. was backed down to 10, made every post a winning one and came home on the bit by four lengths in the fast time of 2:32 4-5, three-fifths of a second slower than the track record. Flavigny, backed down to 13 to 5, got the place by two lengths from Palette, a 40 to 1 shot. Lancastrian, who closed an equal favorite with Flavigny, got a bad looking ride from E. Dugan. The talent lost big money on the defeat of Live Wire, 13 to 10 favorite, in the Sunenine stakes, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs. The winner turned up in the Silver Brook Farm's He Knows, 7 to 2, who and to the front at the last furlong pole and won in a gallop by four lengths in 1:06 2-5. and won in a gallop by four lengths in 1.08 2-5. August Belmont's Half Sovereign, 5 to 1, who had early speed, stood a drive and took the place from Live Wire by half a length. The books cleaned up in great style on the fifth event, for platers, at six furlongs. Wardine, a 40 to 1 shot, made all the pace after a bad start and won by a length and a half from Elcazador, 60 to 1. The latter beat Escutcheon, 7 to 2, by a head, with Royal Onyx, 1½ to 1, the same distance out of the money. Flaxman, 3 to 1 favorite, did not get away well, while Belcast, 7 to 2, was practically left. The time was 1:13 3-5.

Beardall, backed down to 8, made a runaway of the last race, for maiden two-year-elds, five and a half furlongs, winning by two lengths from Melzar, 10 to 1, who beat Franklin, 10 to 1, a nose. Glaucus, backed from 7 to 3, and Slumberless, heavily backed at 8, were not more than a couple of heads away. The time was 1:07 3-5. The attendance was about 18,000. The summaries:

REENTRY MATCHES AT CREEDMOO Never Before to Closely Contesten – Winn

of the Various Events CREEDMOOR, N. Y., July 31 .- The results of the numerous reentry matches of the New York State Rifle Association meeting mere published this morning by Major W. H. Paimer, Seventh Regiment, the statistical officer of the meeting. The entries for both the team and individual matches exceeded by a considerable margin the records of the association. Never before were the matches so closely contested.

The conditions for the reentry show five matches called for the three best scores of seven shots and the rapid fire for the three best scores of ten shots. Dr. W. G. Hudson of the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Association won the major honors by taking the Gen. George W. Wingate short range trophy and the Lieut. H. H. Rogers, Jr., mid range trophy and the Lieut. H. H. Rogers, Jr., mid range trophy, at 200 and 600 yards respectively. In the Wingate match he scored three 3ts, a total of 102 out of 105. Last year he won the same match with the same score. Hudson won the Rogers trophy with a perfect score of 105, beating his record of last year by one point.

Yorks Win a Close Game on Hits h Chase and Laporte-Clevelands Beat Bostons, Making a Tie for Second Place -Philadelphias and Chicagos Win

The New Yorks Beat the Detroits yesterday and the Clevelands beat the Bostons, making tie between the Detroits and Clevelands for second place. The Chicagos won in Washington and improved their position somewhat, while the Philadelphias also had a profitable day. They nosed out the Brown in a free hitting mêlée. The results:

Doc Newton stepped into the breach and on the mound yesterday and rescued the New Yorks from the clutches of their most inalign hoodoo, the Detroit team. It was a rescue by a narrow margin, but all the more worthy on that account. The interplid doctor pitched aplendid ball against the Tigers and deserved his victory. It was a wearing, stubborn pitchers' battle between him and Mullin. Only four New York men reached first in the whole escounter, and two of them scored. Newton pitched a better game than Mullin, because he had a harder game to pitch. The Detroits were on bases oftener than the New Yorks, but Newton's southpaw crossfire made him master of every situation, and the Detroits would not have scored or come near it if Conroy had not transgressed on a couple of throws.

One of Conroy's lurid shots for first base was so high above the bullseye that Chase could not jump high enough to block it, but Hal, the nonpareil, did prevent a probable tie of the score in the ninth by a jumping catch that held a man at first base, and he accomplished a putout by digging up a low throw that was trying to bore its way to the bowels of the earth. Chase's fielding not only was instrumental in saving the game but his batting helped to win it.

The New Yorks made two of their three hits count heavily by convoking them in one inning. This was in the fourth. Mullin issued a pass, and Conroy was the beneficiary. Chase carved a short single to right, Conroy taking second. A high wild pitch by Mullin struck the sumpire and Conroy and Chase trotted forward a station. The Detroit infield played back, and on Williams's grass grazer to O'Leary Couroy scored, O'Leary making the play at first. Along came Laporte and brushed his wand against the ball for a two bagger to centre, on which Chase scored.

In the seventh inning the Detroits made their one run. With one out, Payne was hit.

porte and brushed his wand against the ball for a two bagger to centre, on which Chase scored.

In the seventh inning the Detroits made their one run. With one out, Payne was hit. It was a slow ball and he did not make any frantic effort to avoid being hit, but Connolly allowed him to migrate. He took second on O'Leary's single past Moriarity. Mullin's grounder to Williams forced O'Leary at second, but Conroy missed an easy double play by throwing over Chase's head. Payne tailled on Connie's mishap.

The Detroits were on the verge of a run in the ninth. Rossman hit to Conroy, whose high throw took Chase skyward and gave Rossman a life. Downs sacrificed, and on Payne's grounder to Williams Schaefer, running for Rossman, negotiated the third stage of the journey. He went no further than third, as O'Leary laced a fly to Rickey.

There were other instances of Detroit's complete inability to fathom Newton with men on bages. Davy Jones walked in the first inning, but Coughlin, Crawford and Cobb in turn could not advance him an inch. Mullin walked in the third and was forced by Jones. Coughlin walked, but Crawford and Cobb pierced the firmament with perpendicular files which were nuts for the New York infielders when they came down. The score:

The Long Island Railrod appropried

city with the A. A. A. touring party.

The Long Island Railroad announced yesterday it would share with the proposed Automobile Owners' Association of Long Island the expense of posting conspicuous signs to warn motorists that they were approaching railroad crossings at grade. Such a precaution has been suggested by the company's tests showing that the driver of a rapidly moving car cannot hear the hell warning him of approaching trains. It is likely that the proposed signs will be placed at distances of a half and a quarter of a mile from danger points. This will afford a measure of protection until such time as the Staff is ready to come forward with its share of the $36,500,000 that it is estimated would be involved in the elimination of all railroad grade crossings on Long Island.
